Standard Colors for 1939 Model Willys and Overland

THE chips on the right represent the colors used on 1939 Willys and show the corresponding DULUX and Automotive PYRALUX matches offered by du Pont.

DULUX should be used when complete refinishing is necessary; while Automotive PYRALUX is recommended for spot repair and touch-up work or overall refinishing of used cars.

Having a chalk rate comparable to that of baked synthetic enamels, Automotive PYRALUX is excellent for touching up this type of finish (used on 1939 Willys) and—because it dries with a speed approximating that of DUCO and has a good initial gloss that virtually eliminates rubbing and polishing—it is the ideal material for touch-up work on Willys.

Automotive PYRALUX is obtainable in shades to match baked synthetic finishes used on all production automobiles.
